Cry, the Beloved Country /// Pleure, O Pays bien-aimé. In 1940s South Africa, a land torn by hatred and injustice, a black minister and a bigoted white farmer are forced by a common tragedy [the murder of the white farmer's son by the black minister's son] to search for some common ground. These two extraordinary fathers - one a man of peace, the other a man of power and privilege - form an unlikely union, and, together, find the kind of understanding that could heal a nation. Powerful, uplifting and inspiring! English, French - DVD [A849a]
